

Are You At Risk of Developing Oral Cancer?

Ask your healthcare provider about STRATICYTE™.

STRATICYTE is a biomarker test that provides you with a personalized risk score to help you and your physician effectively plan ahead for peace of mind.

Using a single biopsy, STRATICYTE's AI analysis can accurately and objectively assess your risk of oral cancer for the next 5 years.

Spot it. Test it.

The spot in your mouth could be cancer or it could become cancer. The only way to know for sure is to have it tested.

Standard tests examine your biopsy for changes to determine if there is cancer or precancer, but can't accurately predict if it may turn into cancer.

See 5 years ahead.

STRATICYTE builds on routine pathology findings (what is there) using AI, to give you and your physician your 5 year personalized risk score (what may come).

STRATICYTE's 5 year view can help you predict what may come, and plan ways to protect your health to live better, longer.

No extra biopsies.

STRATICYTE uses the biopsy you already gave. No extra appointments or needles to worry about.
